Report:

RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy conducted coaching classes for competitive exams for final year B. Pharm students. The classes are specially designed for B Pharm IV year with the aim of providing the concepts of the subjects and tips for the preparation for NIPER, GPAT and PGCET. Due to pandemic COVID -19 online classes and exams were conducted for students.

Outcomes:

- To perform well in competitive examination to get good ranks.
- To prepare the students in acquiring the skills to qualify the exam.
- To orient the students in their preparation as per type of competitive exam.

The crash course is especially designed for the students who are going to be enrolled in the NIPER/GPAT/PGCET competitive exam.

The training session includes the modules on

- Entire syllabus of the competitive exams
- Mock tests for students covering individual subjects and all subjects along with regular schedule of classes

Apart from these a mock test was organised by IQAC Cell in association with alumni of RBVRRW CoP to prepare students to perform well in exams.

Students expressed their satisfaction and expressed need of more such programs. About 85 students participated in the training session.

Carrer Opportunities

CIRCULAR

This is to inform all students that an online session on "Industrial opportunities after B.Pharm" by Dr. A.Ravinder Nath Professor(Rtd), University College of Technology, Osmania University will be held on 28th Dec 2020, at 11:00AM at through online mode. Hence all the students are hereby informed to attend the guest lecture and utilise the opportunity without fail.

Report:

Topic: Industrial opportunities after B.Pharm

Date: 28th Dec 2020

Time: 11: 00 am

Speaker: Dr. A. Ravinder Nath Professor (Rtd), University College of Technology, Osmania University

Dr. A. Ravinder Nath, drawing upon his expertise as a retired professor from Osmania University, has shed light on the diverse range of industrial opportunities awaiting graduates with a Bachelor of Pharmacy (B. Pharm) degree. These opportunities span various sectors within the pharmaceutical industry and beyond.

He has discussed various opportunities such as

1. Pharmaceutical marketing: One of the primary career paths for B. Pharm graduates lies in pharmaceutical manufacturing. Graduates can pursue roles in production, quality control, quality assurance, research and development (R&D), formulation development, and regulatory affairs within pharmaceutical manufacturing companies. They contribute to the production, testing, and optimization of pharmaceutical products, ensuring compliance with regulatory standards.
2. Research and development: B. Pharm graduates have the opportunity to engage in pharmaceutical research and development, both in academia and industry. They can work on drug discovery, formulation development, process optimization, and clinical research projects aimed at developing new pharmaceutical products or improving existing ones. R&D roles offer opportunities for innovation and advancement in the pharmaceutical field.
3. Clinical research and trails: Graduates with a B.Pharm degree can explore careers in clinical research organizations (CROs) or pharmaceutical companies conducting clinical trials. They can work as clinical research associates, clinical trial coordinators, data managers, or pharmacovigilance specialists, contributing to the design, implementation, monitoring, and analysis of clinical trials to evaluate the safety and efficacy of drugs.

4. Regulatory Affairs: Regulatory affairs is another promising area for B. Pharm graduates, involving ensuring compliance with regulatory requirements and obtaining approvals for pharmaceutical products. Graduates can work in regulatory affairs departments within pharmaceutical companies, regulatory consulting firms, or regulatory agencies, navigating the complex landscape of regulatory guidelines and submissions.
5. Pharmaceutical marketing: B. Pharm graduates with strong communication and interpersonal skills can pursue careers in pharmaceutical marketing and sales. They can work as medical representatives, product managers, or marketing executives, promoting pharmaceutical products to healthcare professionals, pharmacies, and consumers and contributing to market expansion and brand awareness.

Dr. A. Ravinder Nath recommended that B. Pharm graduates explore and evaluate the various industrial opportunities available to them, considering their interests, career goals, and professional development aspirations. Engaging in internships, networking, continuing education, and skill development activities can enhance their competitiveness and readiness to pursue rewarding careers in the pharmaceutical industry.

Report:

Topic: Pharmacy Course- a tree of opportunities

Date: 18th Nov 2020

Time: 11: 00 am

Speaker: Dr. K.V. Ramana Murthy, Principal, A.U. College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Andhra University

On 18th November 2020, RBVRR Women's College of Pharmacy organized an online session titled "Pharmacy Course - A Tree of Opportunities" featuring Dr. K.V. Ramana Murthy, the Principal of A.U. College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Andhra University. The session aimed to shed light on the diverse career prospects available in the field of pharmacy. Dr. Murthy provided an overview of the pharmacy course curriculum, emphasizing its multidisciplinary nature. He highlighted the importance of subjects like pharmacology, pharmaceuticals, and pharmaceutical chemistry in shaping the skills of pharmacy students. The speaker elaborated on the vast array of career opportunities available to pharmacy graduates. He discussed roles in pharmaceutical research and development, manufacturing, quality control, regulatory affairs, clinical pharmacy, and academia. Dr. Murthy discussed current trends in the pharmaceutical industry, including the rise of biotechnology, personalized medicine, and the increasing demand for pharmacists in healthcare settings. The session also provided insights into the global perspective of pharmacy education and the opportunities for international collaborations and research. The online session on "Pharmacy Course - A Tree of Opportunities" by Dr. K.V. Ramana Murthy provided valuable insights into the diverse career paths available to pharmacy students. It emphasized the interdisciplinary nature of pharmacy education and highlighted the evolving trends in the pharmaceutical industry. Such sessions play a crucial role in guiding students towards informed career choices and maximizing their potential in the field of pharmacy.
